

PRESS RELEASE

Michael Foynes , Global Director , Microsoft Global Security, and a prominent speaker at the Global Forum had a tete-e-tete with EC members of the Cyberabad Security Council, at the Cyberabad Police Commissionerate to discuss on Security landscape in present dynamic environment and plug and play Capability with business continuity in the cloud to drive predictive analysis and big data.

Addressing the IT Security Heads, Mr.Sandeep Shandilya thanked Microsoft for partenering with Cyberabad Security Council to strengthen the underline essence of keeping the City safe. He also said that the department would love to be updated on various updates in this field and they would be happy to be part of this revolutionary VSOC, if it is going to further strengthen the safety and security for all the companies.

Mr.Michael Foynes addressing the gathering spoke about different softwares available today to extend beyond conventional technology, trends and next generation security operations as a tool for security enhancement to improve collaboration and reduce response time towards security analysis. He spoke Predictive data modeling would be the ideal way to visual and connect data analysis. The development of Virtual Security Operation Cente software (VSOC) is something that may address the next gen's requirement in playing an important part in integrating Global Command Controls which is presently under developmental stage.

Secretary of Cyberabad Security Council, Mr.Bharani Aroll, asked for path breaking softwares that should meet the present requirements of the industry to face the growing challenges within the security sphere.

